Dublim-Arthur Griffith, new president of the dail circann, and his cabinet assumed Wednesday the places which they were elected Tuesday. to which they were elected Tuesday.
It was recognized that careful work was necessary if pitfalls were to be avoided during the full month which must elapse before final ratification of the treaty creating the Irish Free State.

must clapse before final ratification of the treaty creating the Irish Free State.

On Fob. 14, the dail will reconvene to ratify formally the document which it approved as the representative body of the Irish republic.

The possibility of the proverbial "slip 'twixt cup and lip" was not ignored, and it was feared in some quarters that the republicans might use the interval in attempting to turn popular feeling to their side.

Claim macking of People.

Meanwhile no unity forebodings hunted the new dail leaders. They claimed to have assumed their tasks backed by the utmost good will of the majority of Ireland's population. The reported decision of Great. Britian to liberate immediately all political prisoners would, it was believed, attempthen their hands, against any extremist efforts on this score and if the British troops and other signs of "foreign domination" were rapidly removed their troubles would be further lightened.

The difficulties with which the new government is faced were commented upon by the political correspondent of the Freeman's Journal as foilows:
"A united and stable government."

but the directionstances of revolution have placed another groun in a neebut the circumstances of revolution have placed another group in a position to endanger the new born treaty. The work of the liest few months will include making a constitution taking over the government from the English and a general election. With the hearty co-opteration of every good citizen this would be a task to try the most experienced statesmen. The Idequities who obstruct this work are enemies of the Irish state even though they act in good faith, for the consequences will be none the less serious should they succeed."

Washington.—Army officers were called in Wednesday by the senant committee investigating charges that American soldiers had been hanged in France, to check up on testimony of former service men as to the aileged illegal executions.

Dr. H. E. Ross, Danville, III., a battallon surgeon with the 16th infantry declared he heard of no lynchings or hangings at Gondrecourt. Robert Harrison. Willimington, N. C., had testified he saw a Mexican lynched near Gondrecourt and that the body was taken to a hospital with rope marks around the neck.

Senator Watson presented an affidavit by J. A. McDonald, Youngstown, O., saying he was at the Bassens prison in Franco when Private Fitzgerald was shot and killed "by a Sergeant Cooper or Kuippa of New Caste, Pa."

Details of the execution of a soldier at Gievres, June 20, 1912, was given by Col. C. J. Symonds, Camp Sherman, O., who was in command there at the time. The gallows, he said, was creeted at night, the execution was secret and was not known generally until the next day.

"I saw no reason for making it public because the crime was not committed at Gievres," he added. "I directed that nobody should attend but a certain number of witness."

"Was there any other gallows at Gievres?" Chairman Brandegee, asked. "Not while I was there, from February, 1918, to July, 1919."

Some witnesses heretofore had testified that guards had told them of the hanging of upwards of a dozen soldlers at Gievres.

ASKS REMOVAL OF SPRINKLER CHARGE

Unjust to Make Plants Pay for Extra Safety, Howe Says.

The special charge assessed in Jamesville upon spytinkler fire projection systems singlid be removed in the opinion of A. O. Howe, this city. He brought it out at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club Tuesday.

During an analysis of the fire projection conditions in Jamesville by Frink R. Daniel, Milwatkee, engineer for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, T. O. Howe said buildings equipped with sprinklers should not be specially taxed but be considered an advantage to the city in that they reduce the work of the fire and water departments in fighting biazes. The opinion was upheld by Engineer Daniel. Mr. Daniel made it plain that in making such a statement, he spoke as a private citizen and not in an official capacit.

"Your stand is well taken." replia statement, he spoke as a private citizen and noft in an official capacit.

"Your stand is well taken," repliced the expert in answer to Mr. Howe's query, "I believe, that the tax is unjust. There is a general feeling among water works people throughout the country that water should be given free to sprinkler equipped buildings. The practice of some people of tapping the sprinkler and using free water for other purposes has made it necessary in places to use meters, which cut down the sprinkler efficiency, because of the friction of the meter. H. A. Griffey, superintendent of the water department, declared that the matter must be referred to the state railroad commission, adding: "If you reduce our revenue from the sprinklers, we will have to get it in some other way." Mr. Howe answered that while it had once been taken up with the council it should be done again. He viewed as unfair, methods which raised money by taxing sprinklers.

Continuing the discussion. Fred Clemons, local insurance broker, saited that the present water rates arrived at five or six years ago are not now adequate. "As a matter of business judgment," he said! "it seems that the rates should be revised in Janesville."

It is not expected that the club will take action.

Interest Shown in Guard Units by Rotary Club

Plans to learn more about the local tank company and cavalry troop will be carried out by the Rotary club following a report of T. O. Howe, chairman of, the public affairs committee of the club made at Tucsday's luncheon. Stating that the people of the city do not know much about either organization, it was decided upon his suggestion that the matter be taken that the matter be taken gestion that the matter be taken up with the Chamber of Commerce. A plan was evolved whereby representives of each of the national gward organizations shall appear before the Rotary club and give an outline of the value of the guard to the cliv.

Miss Mary Lygo, formerly an actress with the Follies, has decided that she may find more relief for her heartaches in the court than by committing suicide. So she has sued Gordon C. Thorne, son of the late vice president of a large mail order house, for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise. She says that her love for Thorne, who of late failed to geturn that love, caused her to slash her wrists and then to take a drug in two unsuccessful attempts to end her life. Thorne, who has fled to Miami, Florida, denies the charges she makes against him in the suit.

GREATNESS

-BY General

Armando Diaz

How many great men and women do you know? Probably a considerable number. Italy's great military leader has defined admirably the essence of greatness and incidentally furnished fresh proof of his own eminence among the great.

"You are a great man," General Diaz told a wounded soldier. "A great man is one who does his duty. You have done your duty and done it well."

To do our duty in Peace is not only in itself evidence of inherent greatness of character. It is also the first step toward the assumption of larger duties that result in material greatness.

To build a great store, first build a good store.

Will your "Good Morning" last all day?

Easy to start from the breakfast table with zest and enthusiasm, but how easy is it to keep on?

Does ambition last, or lag, as the day develops? The afternoon "slump" is a factor to be counted upon, in business or social life.

Usually, there's a reason. Nerves whipped by tea or coffee won't keep on running, and they won't stand constant whipping.

Many a man or woman who has wished the afternoon would be as bright as the morning has simply been wishing that the nerves wouldn't have to pay the natural penalty for being whipped with the caffeine drug.

Creameries and Cheesemakers Charged With Unfair Competition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison.—The state department of markets continued its notivity against concerns which it believes to be engaged in unfair competition when an action was commenced today involving two cooperative cream-cries in the state and a number of individuals. Hearing on the com-plaint of the department will be held at Milwaukee January 14.

at Milwaukee January 14.

The two creamerles and the cheesemakers involved in the action are charged with publication of false and misleading monthly statements, which are alleged to have led patrons to believe that they are receiving more for their milk than the figures actually prove.

Other Violations Clarged.

"Unfair Competition."
Following disclosure of what it believes to be unfair competition in some creamerles and cheese factories of the state, the department of markets intends to issue a general order defining what it regards as unfair competition and demanding its discontinuance.

Such an order if made will apply to all creamerles and cheese factories, whether operated privately or as cooperative corporations, A. C. Reis, counsel for the department, said.

Investigations are being conducted into the trade practices of other industries of the state, and it is expected that further action will soon be

Activities of the department of markets are distinct from those of the attorney general who is proceeding against alleged illegal combinations in restraint of trade, while the marketing department is concerned with unfair trade methods.

THE THEATRES

AT THE MYERS.

A circus on a stage, promising to be one of the season's noteworthy attractions here, will be the headling on the vaudeville bit which will open at the Myers theatro for four nights, starting Thursday. It is the "Chicago Indoor Circus," said to be composed of performers experienced under the "bit tops," as well as in vaudeville. They give a performance which dovetails nicely. It is made up of a side-show of a most laughable kind, an "outside free attraction," and clowns, acrobats and contortionists give much action.

The bilt consists of four other acts, Waldo is a comedian. Deino & Howard give "Twists and Turns." Murray & Alma figure'in a "Ragtime Wedding." The Van der Koors come with "Fellx," the mind reading duck.

Thomas Melghan features the Paramount setting of Booth Tarkington's book, "The Conquest of Canaan." It is a story of the small city, plack, determination and love.

Ever stop to notice the different colors of ties worn by the men of Janesville? Try it, and here are some of the results you'll probably get:

One of the first impressions you'll get is that March 17 has arrived earlier this year, that is, "Kelly with the green necktle."

The next is that every fellow in town was given a purple tie by his feminine friend, for Christmas, and, to show her he appreciates it, he is doing his level best to look unconcerned wearing it.

to look unconcerned wearing it.

Your next observation will surely be that brown and black ties are having a hot race to see which is more popular among the males of the city. Last, but not least, are the red and "Jazz-Bo" ties, the latter, which so successfully carried Janesville in its sway, and then left, to be a thing of the past, like the red ties, for one is suspicioned as a Balshevist, if he adorns his neck with one. But on inspection we saw three in Janesville, Tuesday.

Vocational School Funds Must Be Kept Separate

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mudison—State aid funds for vocational education do not apply to the general fund of a city, but must be kept in a separate fund at the disposal of the local board, to most expenditures, the attorney general cavised George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education today.

BLACK AND BROWN CRAVATS LEAD IN POPULARITY HERE

Before Interstate Commission.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Washington-Secretary Hoover at the instance of the United States chamber of commerce, was asked Wednesday to appear before the Interstate Commerce commission in its investigation of the general level of terstate to the general level of transportation rates.

When the commission resumed its hearings on the general rate levels Wednesday after a three weeks' recess, a letter was presented from J. H. De Frees, president of the Chamber, making the request and no objection being made by railroad participants, Commissioner Esch, acting as chalman, issued the order.

Witnesses for New England railroads were among the first culled today. D. S. Brigham, assistant to the president of the Eoston and Maine, presented statistical tables showing that the roads in that region for the 12 months ending Sept. 30, 1221, had a net deficit in operating income of 37,913,009. 37,913,000.

New Investments Needed

George M. Shriver, first vice president of the Baltimore and Onio, declared that if traffic volume remains during 1922 at the level it has now reached, railroads will require new investments of $458,000,000 for improvements and betterments, but if traffic volume increases to the normal level of the last four or five years, additional investments of $460,000,000 will be necessary or a total of $858,000,000.

Railroad efforts to reduce expenditures were demonstrated, he declarated by the reduction of employes in the eastern district from 1,017,000 men during October, 1920, to 800,377

In situations like the one confronting the city of Janesville now, the need of a managerial head of the city is emphasized. It would make no dif- thing. ference who might be in the mayor's chair, the need would be the same.

Under the charter law governing the city, administrative heads are all in the same box. It might be plainly stated that a person is not the point of attack; it is the weakness of the form itself. Months ago the Gazette called attention to the need for cutting the budget to the lowest possible notch; that the people of the city were in no mood to be overtaxed for things that could properly wait. It was not done. On the other hand the taxpayers found themselves obliged to pay the highest per capita cost of city government for 1922 ever known in history of Janesville. They found that the city was to spend $757,000 of the income from taxation and other sources at a time when economies were being put to practice in every other line. And the budget was made with no idea. of economy. It is useless to hang the added in- earth. schools. Only a very small portion of that added expense shown in the budget arose from the school building. It is used only as an excuse for other extravagances. The Gazette said that a heavy paving program would be followed by issuance of bonds. From 35 to 45 per cent of street paving is paid for by such bonds. The Gazette called attention to the dangerous line between the indebtedness of the city and further power to issue these bonds. Then we were told that there was a margin of $150,000 for bonds. But there was not. There was no margin at all. Since then it has, by the reduction of debt, grown to a small marginal sum-so small in fact as to give no leeway at all. City Attorney Cunningham has warned the council of impending danger

There is need for more money than has been provided. In other words when the city met the demand for $70,000 it was only half enough. That was of course the time to attend to it. Now there can be no more bonds and there must be a saving of enough out of the funds provided for in with a sum provided in the budget and each aman extravagant budget to do the work. LATEST NEWS FROM MARS

BE FREDERIC J. RASKIN

Washington, D. C .- All the latest scientific dope on that most interesting of all planets. Mars, is conveniently gathered together in a recent publication on the subject by Professor William H. Pickering, who has charge of the Harvard Astronomical Station in Jamaica, and who has devoted much of his time to looking at Mars through a telescope and speculating about conditions on the sister planet. Like most strictly scientific revelations, what Professor Pickering has to say is somewhat dis-illusioning to the layman. Mars has held high place in the popular imagination for a long time. It has been generally assumed that Mars is in habited by intelligent beings, something like men How these beings differ from us and how they re semble us, whether we can hope ever to com-municate with them—these questions fire even the dullest imagination. All sorts of fantasies have, been based on imagined visits of Martian to the world, or of inhabitants of the world to Mars. Whether Mars is inhabited by intelligent beings is a highly debatable question, as Professor Pickering shows, but it is extremely probable that life in some form exists on Mars. That alone is enough to keep human curlosity about it at the highest plich. Men have been squinting at Mars for centuries, finding out more and more about it as their instruments improved. There is now an association of Martian observers who look at the planet from all different parts of the earth observations and opinions. Professor Pickering himself has worked out in theory a glant heliograph by means of which it would be possible to signal the inhabitants of Mars, provided they are intelligent beings with as much power of sight as we have.

The time may yet come when we will get daily communications from Mars. After all, at times it is only 35,000,000 miles away. Should a means of travelling through interstellar space with a supperfected, as it ply of canned oxygen ever be well might, an expedition to Mars would doubt-less be launched. An aeroplane travelling at the rate of one hundred miles an hour might reach Mars in about forty years, provided it set out at the right time. The chief- of the expedition, a youth of twenty, would carry with him a few primising infants of both sexes, aged about one These would be men and women at the vear. height of their maturity when Mars was reached. They would do the observing, and their progeny would carry the dope back to earth, along with a delegation of Martians. The entire operation need not consume more than three generations. It is only fair to add that Professor Pickering is not responsible for any of the above speculations. He dld invent the signaling system, it is true, but he does not seem to be at all sure that there is anyone on Mars worth corresponding

Although the scientists have the greatest difficulty in ascertaining what kind of life there is on Mars, they are able to supply a surprising amount of information as to living conditions there . When the Martians expedition sets sail, science will probably not be able to tell the memhers what sort of creatures they will encounter, but they will be able to tell all about the climate in Mars, what kind of underwear they will need how many blankets at night and all that sort of

In the first place, they are able to compute the size of Mars with great accuracy. It is 4,200 miles in diameter which means that it is only about twelve percent as great as the earth in bulkquite a small place as stars go, a sort of Copher

Prairie among the habitable planets.
As a result of being such a lightweight world. Mars enjoys an extremely low torce of gravity. At the surface of Mars the force of gravity is only about two-fifths of that at the surface of the earth. This means that if you weigh 150 you would have a most unusual lightness and bouyancy. Dancing would be vastly more of a

As a result of this condition, Mars has an atmosphere of very slight density, and such an at-mosphere does not hold water well at all. Mars is probably losing water vapor into space all of the time, and it would probably have gone dry, long ago were the supply not renewed from some inner source. Professor Pickering thinks that there is not more than one thousandth as much water on Mars as there is on the face of the

It does not follow from this, however, that life on Mars is made specially difficult by lack of, water. We have a great deal more water than we need on earth. In fact, if we could drain an ocean into space, and use the land for farming, it would greatly improve our situation.

In Mars, the scientists now believe, there probably are no permanent seas. The water in the form of vapor sems to perform a sort of seasonal migration from pole to pole. In the winter it covers the poles in great snow caps that are visible from the earth. In spring, these snow caps melt with great rapidity, for evaporation is very rapid on Mars, Water boils at about 84 degrees Fahren heit. The melted snow forms great marshes, which are also visible from the earth. As these evaporate the winds carry the water vapor back toward. the equator, and it falls all the way in the form

Our climate is tempered by the oceans, and the Martian climate, lacking this influence must be subject to terrible extremes, both from season to season and between day and night. It is quite possible that the water in puddles boils at noon on some days and freezes at night. The Lack of space makes it impossible here to discuss in any detail the Martian canals. The claim that Mars is inhabited by intelligent beings is based almost wholly on the contention the these long straight canals could not be the work of nature. The canals will have to be studied a great deal more before science will have any intelligent conclusion to offer about them.

JUST FOLKS

It's wanting keeps us young and fit.
It's wanting something just ahead.
And striving hard to come to it, That brightens every road we tread.

That man is old before his time Who is supremely satisfied
And does not want some hill to climb Or something life has still denied.

The want of poverty is grim.
It has a harsh and cruel sting.
But fill the cup up to the brim
And that's a far more hopeless thing.

A man must want from day to day, Must want to reach a distant goal Or claim some treasure far away, For want's the builder of the soul.

He who has ceased to want, has dropped The working tools of life and stands Much like an old-time clock that's stopped While time is mouldering his hands.

I'm truly sorry for the man, Though be he millionaire or king, Who does not hold some cherished plan And says he does not want a thing.

Want is the spur that drives us on And oft its praises should be sung, For man is old when want is gone. It's what we want that keeps us young.

I drink about six cups of coffee a day and about two cups of tea. Is this narmful? (Gertrude J. M.).

Answer—Boys or girls under 16 should not take tea or coffee at all, and only a little cocca after the age of 12, in my judgment. Milk is the stuff for boys and girls to drink, for health and strength. Even vigorous adults can seldom take more than two cups of tea and two of coffee daily without cyll effects from excessive stimulation. You are abusing a good beverage. This state has 1.1 per cent of the total number of its gainfully employed persons engaged in public service, a considerably lower figure than for the entire country which showed 1.9 per cont so employed. paint, scrutched off the body of the death car itself!

Take that lamp rim, now. There are 14 cars on the market that are equipped with lamps made by that company. So that reduces the number of suspects that much more. We've got to look for a gray car of one of those 14 makes, which eliminates more than 70 per cent of the cars in the city."

"But what about those pieces of glass? What are they going to tell you?"

"Eventually, the name of the man who owned the car." replied Brennan. "There are three kinds of glass there—one plain glass, one mirror iens and one concave-convex lens. If you'll fit 'em together you'll see that the car carried eight-inch gas headlights and six-inch oil sidelights. Therefore it was an old model. The bit of rubber was very evidently ripped off a four-inch tire. Now, you members of the traffe squad, what kind of a car answers those specifications?"

"A 1909 Packard, model 18." came in a chorus from several of the men who had been trained to recognize the make and model of an automobile from the appearance of its headlights. "Right!" snapped Drennan. "Old Sherlock Holmes wasn't so far out of the way after all. Now all we have to look for is a 1909 model Packard, painted gray, with at least one gash along the paint on the right side and badly in need of repairs. The headlights are gone, so the car couldn't have traveled very far. Cet after the garages around Sixty-alanh street and we ought to have our man before morning. Country Club Engages New Golf Instructor from Duluth-

SCOTCH EXPERT TO BRINGING UP FATHER

David Tosch, tutor at the North-land country club of Duluth, Minn. has been engaged by the Janesville country club as professional for the 1922 season. The contract was signed at a special meeting of the officials of the club with Mr. Tosch here Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Tosch succeeds Harry Robinson, who was located here for soveral seasons. Mr. Robinson is wintering in Milwaukee and was mable to consider another year in Janesville because of the serious illness of his wife.

The new instructor is a native of Scotland. His only professional connection in the United States has been with the Duluth club to which he came direct from his native heath.

Mr. Tosch will take up his duties here April 1. He is well known to a number of Janesville neople who made his friendship at Duluth. He cames highly recommended by protessionals of this country and Scotland.

Fairies Bump Harvard, 29-16

Featured by the flashy work of Gharrity, the Beloit Fairies defeated the Harvard city club at the Fairbanks-Morse gym Tuesday uight, 29 to 16. The game was rough. Fifty Janesville fans made the trip.

The Harvard team will be brought to Janesville next Wednesday to play the Cardinats. They promise to come in a special car.

On Thursday of this week, the Ped Crowns play in Beloit.

FACTS ARE WHAT YOU WANT

We vouch for the value of CHIROPRACTIC, VERTEBRAL AD-JUSTMENTS and know that they will help you. A Fact is a demonstrated truth. When you take these adjustments and find out how they will help you, you will have had this fact brought home to you. Now it is squarely UP TO YOU. Which do you prefer, your doubts and prejudices, or the return of your HEALTH. IF YOU VALUE THE LATTER YOU MAY HAVE IT. Investigate thoroughly this Drugless Health Science called CHIROPRAC-TIC. See the Chiropractor at once.

Chiropractic for Tonsilitis

If you are suffering from an attack of Tonsilitis, the most logical thing for you to do is to call upon your Chiropractor and have him adjust the cause of the trouble. No medical man knows the functions of the tonsils, therefore, he should not be permitted to remove them. Is it not much better to keep these much abused little organs healthy than to deprive your body of something that an ALL WISE CREATOR knew was essential to your needs? The Chiropractor can't make healing force, but THE CHIROPRACTOR CAN ADJUST SUBLUXATED VERTEBRAE (Misplaced small bones of the spine) and let it in those diseased tonsils.

Chiropractic for Lung Trouble

If you are suffering from any form of disease in which the lungs are involved it would be wise for you to make a thorough and impartial investigation of Chiropractic as the most frequent cause of nerve pinching is a misplacement (subluxation) of the bones (vertebrae) in the spinal column from between which the nerves pass as they leave the spinal cord. When these nerves are pinched and the vital force is thus prevented from flowing to the various organs so-called Disease is the result. Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments, by putting the misplaced bone back into place, relieve this pinching, the vital force flows unimpeded to the organs and Health is the result.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Chiropractor will be absent from his office Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 12, 13 and 14.

PROVISIONS

Chleago, Wheat prices developed strength in the early trading Wednesday, largely owing to absence of confirmation of Tuesday's report that French banks were in trouble. Besides, bulks contended that the outlook for the new crop in the southwest remained doubtful. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged to it higher, May $1.09@1.09%, and July $9% @9% &, were followed by material further guins. Foreigners appeared to be liberal buyers of future deliveries of wheat and there was talk of big export business in flour. Wheat closed strong, 1% @2% on higher, with May $1.10 % on 11% and July $9% @9% confirmers to corn. After opening &@% chigher, May $2% @53% c, the market scored slightly general gains. With country offerings small, seaboard was again after corn, prices closed strong, &@% @4c net higher, May $3% @3% c, and then hardened a little more.

Wall Street Review.

New York.—The recovery of Mexican Petroleum was followed by ladvances of 1 to 4 points in Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas and Houston Oil, in Wall Street Wednesday, Shorts next covered in equipments, coppers, motors, food specialties and chain store issues. American "Locomotive, American Smelting, Utah, Studebaker, Corn Products and May Depaytment Stores rosu 1 to 3 points. Crucible and Pullman were among the few industrials to lag. Government bonds were active and strong, all Liberty groups except third 42s and Victory 32s soring new high records. Call money opened at 3 pericent.
Features of especial interest were lacking at the dull and uncertain opening. Bethehem Steel was the only grominent issue to issue more than a fractional change, gaining one point. Most other industrials were lower, as were also oils and rails. The merket steadled within the first haif hour on renewed buying of Mexican Petroleum. Prellminary foreign exchange quotations were lower, especially Fronch and Italian rates.

Rails hardened lator, their improvement contributing to further gains among oils and specialties.—The close was strong. Liberty issues featured the expansive bond market, the 3½s showing especial strongth.

New York.—(At noon) 3½s $97.00; first 4 $ $97.80; second 4½s $97.90; third 4½s $98.00; second 4½s $97.70; first 4% $98.00; victory 3½s $100.12; Victory 4½s $100.12.
